A Message from the Executive Director

This year has been filled with uncertainty and challenges that CAEP has never faced in the past and it is a testament to the generosity of our members and the dedication of CAEP staff that CAEP is thriving. Despite not being able to hold our 2020 annual conference as well as being forced to cancel virtually all of our professional development courses, we are ending 2020 financially viable and busier than ever.

CAEP has advocated strongly for its membership during this pandemic. We held weekly COVID Townhalls in an effort to share knowledge. And, we have not stopped. Our Grand Rounds will continue through the winter and spring months. Our Sections and Committees have ramped up their work despite the onerous frontline response to the pandemic. And, most of all, our members have been there to share best practices and advocate for better solutions when challenges arise.

I am extremely proud to be the Executive Director of CAEP during these unprecedented times and I look forward to better days, especially when we can come together safely as a community again.

My very best wishes to all of you,

Sincerely,

Lynn R. Garrow, BSocSc (Criminology), MBA(Kellogg)
Executive Director, CAEP
