Dear Esteemed Speakers and Moderators,

We are looking forward to welcoming you to Montreal as a valued presenter at the upcoming International Conference of Emergency Medicine. We kindly remind you that we are committed to fostering a respectful and professional environment that upholds the highest standards of academic integrity and ethical discourse and that professional discussions should prioritize shared learning and constructive engagement.

To foster an inclusive and respectful atmosphere, speakers should refrain from:

- Discussing geopolitical conflicts, international disputes, or politically sensitive topics unrelated to healthcare and science.
- Making statements that could be perceived as political commentary, country-specific criticisms, or advocacy on international policies.
- Including slides, images, or data introducing political opinions or controversial geopolitical perspectives.
- Discriminatory language or imagery related to race, gender, religion, nationality, or any other identity.
- Hate speech, inflammatory remarks, or offensive or exclusionary content that could be considered offensive or exclusionary.

Our goal is to provide a safe, inclusive, and intellectually stimulating space for all attendees. Please contact your Track Chair if you have any questions or require guidance on presentation content.

Thank you for your cooperation and contribution to a meaningful and respectful conference.

Best regards,

Drs. Brittany Ellis & Eddy Lang, ICEM2025 Conference Chairs

Drs. Judy Morris & Paul Pageau, ICEM2025 Scientific Chairs

Lynn Garrow, Executive Director, CAEP
